DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-11 and 17-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dangelo et al (9S 7109581), hereinafter Dangelo in view of Uang et al. (6989325), hereinafter Uang and Brown et al. (US 6340822), hereinafter Brown.

Regarding claims 7, 11 and 17, Fig. 4 of Dangelo shows an integrated circuit package, comprising a die/IC 402;

a heat sink 404, and a thermal intermediate portion 408 comprising a plurality of carbon nanotubes (MWCNT), the one end of some nanotubes perpendicularly bonded to the heat sink through a chemical process.

Fig. 4 of Dangelo fails show that a coating of gold on both of the die and the heat sink. Uang discloses an IC package comprising at least two die or substrate each having a coating of gold 32, 54 thereon and Fig. 3. Uang further discloses that the each ends of the carbon nanotubes include an amide and/or thiol based linker (organic moieties) to attach the nanotubes to the metal surfaces (col. 2, lines 58-68). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Uang in order to coat both of the die and the heat sink with gold and tether the nanotubes to the metal surfaces for better conductivity.

The combination of Dangelo/Uang fails to show a first and a second thermal intermediate portions. Fig. 6 of Brown shows nanotubes having two portion 4a, 4b and one end bonded to the die 10' and the other end to the substrate 10. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have two portions of second thermal intermediate portions each bonded to a die and a heat sink with the teachings of Brown to improve heat dissipation.

Note that the device of Dangelo could be a DRAM since Dangelo's device is an IC.

Regarding claims 8-10 and 19-21, Uang discloses that the each ends of the carbon nanotubes include an amide and/or thiol based linker (organic moieties) to attach the nanotubes to the metal surfaces (col. 2, lines 58-68).

Regarding claim 18, Dangelo discloses that a die an IC, therefore, it would be a part of the processor.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 22-25 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Art Unit: 2811

Applicant's arguments filed June 27, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The rejection of claims 7-11 and 17-21 stands. And the examiner presents the remarks below in response to Applicant's arguments.

Applicants' main argument is that "Dangelo teaches away from using gold as coating material on the heat sink." However, it is not persuasive. Dangelo merely discloses that "Metal catalyst layer 410 may chosen from among Ti, Co, Cr, Pt, Ni and their alloys. Preferably, metal catalyst layer 410 are Ni and Ni alloys." This disclosure does not assert the Applicant's argument that "Dangelo teaches away from using gold as coating material on the heat sink."
